GWSB CATALYST FOR GLOBAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Innovation Starts Here

HOSTED BY GW SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

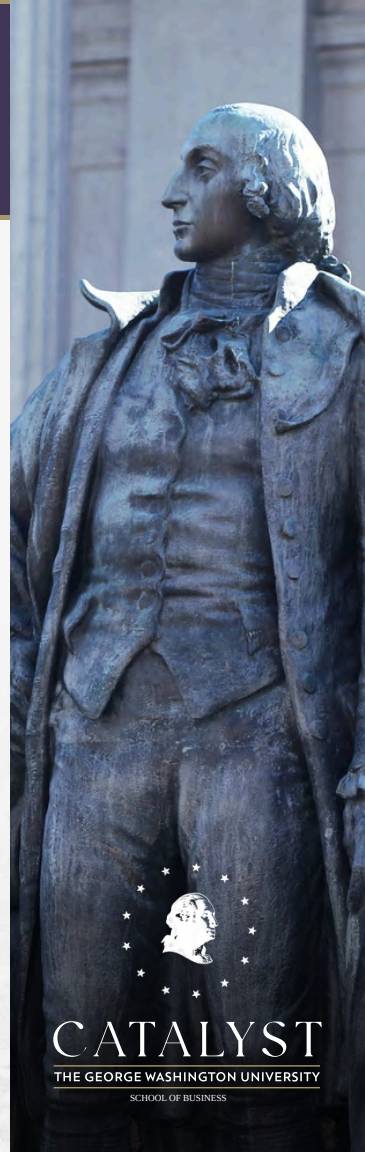

June 30- July 3, 2026 | Washington, DC

The future belongs to those who can see it coming—and act.

The GW Catalyst Program is an immersive innovation experience designed for future leaders, founders, change makers, and policy-makers. Participants explore emerging global trends and learn how to capture opportunity through our exclusive 3S Model, designed by award-winning scholar and Program founder Dr. Ayman ElTarabishy:

Catalyst covers five key themes considered as the core body of knowledge every modern leader must master. These five pillars form the intellectual backbone of the inaugural Catalyst program:

- Energy & Precious Metals
- Medical Innovation
- High-Performing Teams
- Strategic Innovation
- Artificial Intelligence

The Catalyst 3S Model

SYSTEM

Understanding complex global ecosystems – markets, technologies, institutions, geopolitics, and industries.

SKILLS

Commanding the mechanics of modern leadership – strategic design, financial architecture, innovation, AI fluency, high-performance teaming, and relentless execution.

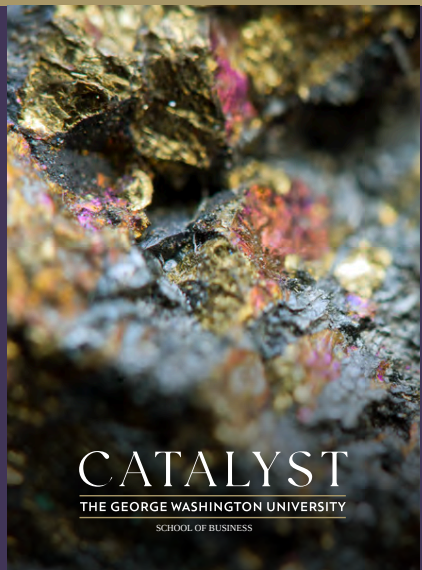

SELF

Cultivating the leader within – purpose, ethics, resilience, emotional intelligence, and growth

Energy & Precious Metals

Strategic resources as the foundation of global stability and future growth. Participants explore geopolitics, sustainability, materials innovation, supply chains, and risk — transforming commodities into strategic assets.

Medical Innovation

From concept to clinic. Participants navigate regulatory systems, clinical research, commercialization, and breakthrough technologies shaping modern healthcare and human well-being.

High-Performing Teams

How elite teams are designed, led, and sustained. Participants master performance alignment, culture, trust, adaptability, and leadership systems that drive exponential results.

Strategic Innovation

Leading through complexity and transformation. Participants integrate strategy, culture, structure, and sustainability using systems thinking and real-world application.

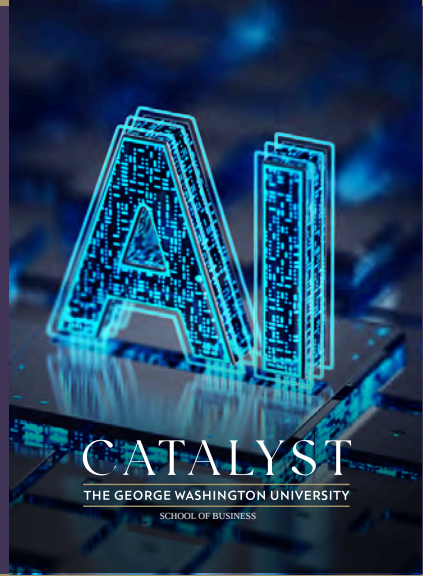

Managing in a dynamic world requires systemic thinking and human-centered leadership."

– Dr. Rico Baldeger

Artificial Intelligence

AI as a strategic business advantage. Participants develop AI-driven business models, financial innovation, automation, global market access, and responsible technology leadership.

CATALYST

the integration of theory with practice.

What truly sets this experience apart is the seamless weaving of ideas with action, where theory steps out of the classroom and into the world. Anchored in GW's unrivaled proximity to global power and possibility and amplified by the global reach of the International Council for Small Business (ICSB), participants engage directly with the institutions that shape markets, policy, and opportunity. From the halls of the World Bank, the International Finance Corporation, and the United States Congress, to the voices of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the Small Business Administration, and ICSB's global network of entrepreneurs, scholars, and policymakers, they gain rare insight into how policy is forged, entrepreneurship is championed, and capital flows, emerging with a deeper understanding of how ideas become impact.
